

History

Cole Industrial, Inc., founded by Carl Cole in 1964, is a full-service manufacturers' representative serving the mechanical equipment field. Cole specializes in power plant, heating, mechanical contracting and industrial products through our representation of world-class manufacturers of packaged boilers, industrial burners, heat exchangers and other boiler plant equipment for many different applications. Cole Industrial provides new product sales, service, parts, technical support, testing and training to a broad base of customers in Washington, Oregon, Northern Idaho and Alaska.

Cole has been the exclusive manufacturers representative for the industry leader, Cleaver-Brooks, since its inception. Cole has earned the reputation of being a single source solution for sales and service of heat generation and heat transfer systems. Our experienced and professional staff of new product sales engineers, service technicians, parts sales personnel and administrators is dedicated to providing rapid response to our customers and the industries we serve.